

FHT Administrators & Employers

Respect in the Workplace

Creating a workplace of mutual respect

JOIN us for a Workshop on this very important topic:

Wednesday, March 2, 2011 from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

PRESENTER:

Maria McDonald, LL.B.

Labour and Employment Law, Dykeman Dewhirst O'Brien LLP

This event will be available via OTN videoconference.

Site Coordinators: please self-register your site for this event via Ncompass at:

<https://schedule.otn.ca/tsm/portal/nonclinical/details.do?request.requestId=11455896> or contact scheduling@otn.ca if you do not have Ncompass training.

If you do not have access to OTN videoconference equipment please visit <http://www.otn.ca/otn/site-locations> to find a site near your location that you may be able to use.

Thank you to the sponsoring organization:

Event made possible through the Healthy Work Environment Innovations Grant by:

HealthForceOntario

Additional support provided by:

Providing support to Ontario's Family Health Teams

Maria McDonald was called to the Ontario Bar in 1995 and practices employment and labour law with Dykeman Dewhirst O'Brien LLP. She advises her clients on all issues relating to their employment, human resources and labour relations issues. Maria provides practical and informative training and education seminars to both management and front line staff. She also works with employers to create employee handbooks, policies and templates for everyday human resource issues. Maria's goal is to demystify the highly regulated employment and labour sector for her clients and to share with them best practices to make their workplace the best it can be.